FOR MANY YEARS, we have furnished the seating and other fitments for churches, giving reverent service in this most essential work. We have many friends and value their appreciation of our efforts. For this we express thanks. In the hope that we may assist congregations building anew, we offer the benefit of our experience, gained through years of honest endeavor to give real service.

SEATING PLAN

A seating plan is essential in order to secure the best possible arrangement and greatest seating capacity in a given space. For the convenience of those not having a seating plan furnished by their Architect, we have outlined on this page three of the types most generally used. However, as every Church presents its individual problem we will gladly furnish without charge or obligation a seating plan or arrangement embodying your own particular requirements and conditions.

In order to intelligently lay out a seating plan we should be furnished with the Architect's Blue Print of the floor plan or a pencil sketch of same giving accurately all interior measurements and showing the exact location of all exits, posts, wall offsets, radiators and other obstructions. Also the general type of seating plan preferred, the number and width of the aisles, the space required in front of the Pulpit or Altar Railing and the passage space at the rear.

PEW BODIES

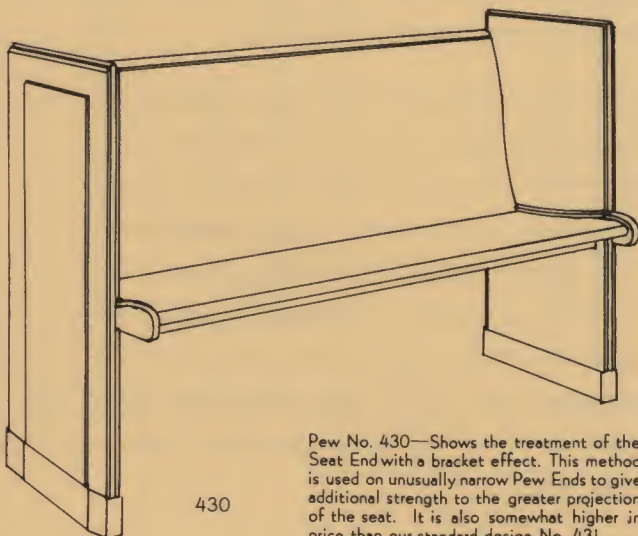

Our Pew Bodies have the proper tilt to back and seat insuring comfortable seating

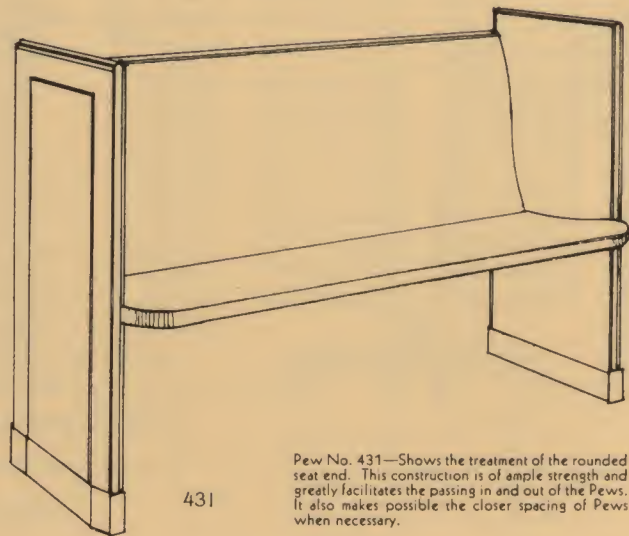

These and other designs for Pew Ends can be furnished.

- No. 33—Standard Cap Rail, Single Curved Back, Shaped Seat
- No. 22—Standard Cap Rail, Flat Back, Shaped Seat
- No. 11—Standard Cap Rail, Flat Back, Flat Seat

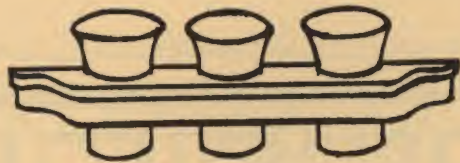

430

Pew No. 430—Shows the treatment of the Seat End with a bracket effect. This method is used on unusually narrow Pew Ends to give additional strength to the greater projection of the seat. It is also somewhat higher in price than our standard design No. 431.

431

Pew No. 431—Shows the treatment of the rounded seat end. This construction is of ample strength and greatly facilitates the passing in and out of the Pews. It also makes possible the closer spacing of Pews when necessary.

HOW TO ORDER

CAREFULLY READ THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION

(A) Pews are not carried in stock by our company but are fabricated for each order. The quantity or size of an order regulates the price per unit.

By reason of the many designs of ends, the various back and seat lengths, the different kinds of wood and finishing, the stocking of pews is impractical.

(B) For your guidance in selecting Pew Ends, according to the various price ranges we are using the following system in numbering our designs.

The last numeral of a number being zero (0) are the least expensive; such as 150, 160, 170, etc.

Those ending in one (1) are higher in price, such as 131, 141, 151, etc.

Those ending in two (2) cost more than the 0 or 1 and so continued up to 9 which are the most expensive.

The ends shown in our Catalogue are merely suggestions and we can readily carry out your own design or that of your Architect.

(C) Single thickness ends have a tendency to warp and twist even when using the best of Kiln Dried lumber and are not to be recommended. This condition is greatly overcome by the use of two ply ends which can be recommended to give satisfaction.

The ideal Pew End is built up into three thicknesses. The Three Ply End is very reliable and also presents a sturdy and substantial appearance. The cost of the Three Ply End is somewhat higher than the two ply.

(D) Pew Bodies, Benches and Seats. See cut of same, page 8 of Catalogue.

Pew Body No. 11 is the lowest in price.

Pew Body No. 22. Cost is higher than No. 11.

Pew Body No. 33. Cost is higher than No. 22.

KIND OF WOOD OR LUMBER

(E) Oak has been used more extensively in the manufacture of Church Pews and Church Furniture than any other kind of Lumber. It is substantial and lasting and takes a beautiful finish. Walnut and Mahogany lumber is occasionally used and is naturally very beautiful; however, the cost of same is rather high. Birch, Red Gum, Elm, Poplar and Yellow Pine are also used in the manufacture of Pews and Church Furniture. These woods stand up well, take a good finish and give very satisfactory results.

Our lumber is thoroughly seasoned and dried to five per cent moisture content in our Dry Kilns before manufacture.

(F) Pew fronts or screens for the first Pews are essential when kneelers are used. They also give privacy where kneelers are not required. Rear screens are not essential; however, they greatly add to the general appearance of the Pew installation and to the interior of the Church itself.

Kneelers, Book Racks and Communion Glass Receptacles, if desired, should be included in the Pew Order. The cost is less and the finishing is done with the balance of the order, thus assuring a perfect match.

(G) Only the highest quality of materials are used in the finishing of our Church Pews and Church Furniture. It is not only essential that the finish be beautiful but also durable and hard drying.

PEWS ASSEMBLED or SEMI-ASSEMBLED

(H) It is optional with the buyer to have the assembling and installation included in the Contract. In some instances a saving can be effected by having the assembling and installation done at the building by the buyer.

SEMI-ASSEMBLED PEWS

Pew Ends are furnished completely assembled and provided with groove for back and seat. The Pew Seat, Back and Cap Mould are assembled in a unit. The ends, supports, aprons under seat and finishing mouldings will be detached.

The completion of assembling can be done by a good cabinet maker or first class carpenter, with very satisfactory results. Center divisions and supports of Pews are sent long enough so they can be scribed to the floor when Pews are being installed. Kneelers are shipped fully assembled.

ASSEMBLED PEWS

(I) We have found it very expedient, especially during the present shortage of skilled mechanics, to furnish Pews completely built up and assembled. The Pews are properly assembled in our factory by experienced workmen and are shipped either by truck or freight car depending upon the number of Pews and the distance to be shipped. Transportation charges are naturally higher than on K. D. or Semi-Assembled Pews; however, the difference is amply compensated for by the cost of assembly at the Church and with the added assurance of a factory assembled product.

INSTALLATION OF PEWS

(J) The fastening to the floor or installing of our Assembled Pews is very simple for a carpenter or maintenance man. Often the members of the congregation perform the installation themselves.

Instructions for the scribing of the Pew supports to compensate with any existing unevenness of the floor are furnished.

A minimum spacing of thirty-two inches from back to back of Pews is recommended. However, when square type ends are used it is advisable to use a thirty-three inch spacing to insure ample room when entering. When kneelers are used we also suggest a thirty-three inch spacing. When unusually narrow Ends are used it is necessary to use a seat bracket as shown on Pew Cut No. 430 on Page 8.

KIND OF FLOOR IN BUILDING

(K) When ordering Pews be sure to state if the floor is level or has a slant to the front or if bowl shaped and slanting from three directions. This information is necessary in order that the Pew Bases be made to properly conform to the floor level. Also state if the floor is wood, concrete, tile, etc.
